National Nurses Day is held annually on May 6th which marks the beginning of National Nurses Week. The day is to recognize the contribution nurses make to our world and to provide thanks.

Celebration\ Observance

Celebrations and luncheons are organized to honor the nurses and recognize their contributions.

Flowers, gifts and other thoughtful tokens of appreciation are often given to nurses by patients, fellow employees, management and family members.

History

The final day of Nurses week, May 12, is Florence Nightingale's birthday. Florence Nightingale became famous as an English nurse for her work of making rounds at night during the Crimean War. In October 1954, National Nurses Week was first observed (100th anniversary of Nightingale's mission to Crimea) and later in 1982, May 6th was introduced as National Nurses Day.
